

To all prospective and current students of the Faculty of Science and Engineering

[Important]Information on the use of individually-owned laptop computers in the classroom (BYOD)

The University is promoting BYOD (Bring Your Own Device), in which students can use their own laptops for classes and self-study. We are planning to gradually develop the necessary environment so that students can learn effectively and efficiently and lead a fulfilling student life by maximizing the use of ICT without being restricted by time or place, using their own laptop computers that they are used to using in everyday life.

Therefore, we would like to ask you to make preparations for BYOD as follows.

[1] Preparing your laptop

Please check the "Recommended OS/Spec" for your department/major and prepare your own laptop.

*Please note that the recommended OS/specifications for PCs vary depending on the department/major.

*If you already own a laptop that meets the relevant specifications, you do not need to purchase a new one.

*Recommended OS/specifications for each department/major are set based on compulsory subjects, etc.

For some elective courses (CAD, 3D, VR, music/video production, etc.), a PC with even higher specifications may be required. Please check the syllabus and prepare a PC that meets the operating requirements and PC specifications of the software used in class.

*There are no restrictions on where PCs can be purchased. They can be purchased from electronics retailers, online shops, etc.

Waseda Co-op sells 'Waseda PCs' that meet the "recommended specifications for each department and major". However, some departments and majors may have over-specifications.

Please check the recommended OS/specifications for your department or major.

<https://waseda.box.com/v/byod-pc-spec-2025>

*If you have any questions or queries, please contact the contacts listed in the table.

For departments/majors without contact details, please contact the Co-op, electronics retailers, etc.
